If You Feel Different, You Drive Different

North Dakota officials warn of increased risk of drug-impaired driving on 420

As April 20th approaches, more commonly known as 420, — a date increasingly associated with marijuana use — the North Dakota Department of Transportation (NDDOT) and law enforcement agencies through Vision Zero are reminding drivers that impaired is impaired, no matter the substance.

The national campaign If You Feel Different, You Drive Different emphasizes the importance of driving sober and aims to raise awareness about the dangers of drug-impaired driving, especially on high-risk days like 420.

According to results from the North Dakota roadside Oral Fluid Pilot Project study, marijuana (THC) was present in more than half (51%) of samples collected from January 2022 to July 2023. The data supports concerns that drug-impaired drivers are present on North Dakota roadways — and may be more prevalent on April 20th.

"Driving under the influence of any drug is a serious threat to public safety," said Trooper Tarek Chase, Drug Recognition Expert (DRE) state coordinator. "Officers are trained to detect impairment and play an essential role in removing dangerous drivers from the road. Prevention starts with responsible choices. If you plan to use any impairing substance, plan for a sober ride."

North Dakota now has 60 certified DREs working in 25 agencies statewide. These officers are specially trained to detect drug impairment and support the safe removal of impaired drivers from the road.

Whether it's marijuana, prescription medication or other substances, impaired driving is illegal and dangerous. Even over-the-counter medications can slow reaction time or induce drowsiness. When mixed with alcohol, the effects can be even more hazardous.

If you're planning to use any impairing substance, designate a sober driver, call a taxi or rideshare or use ND Sober Ride, when available. Encourage others to do the same, and if you see someone trying to drive high, speak up. Taking away the keys could save a life.
