Napoleon Students Attend 2025 NDASC Annual Conference

The North Dakota Association of Student Councils (NDASC) held its annual conference from December 7-9, 2025, drawing close to 1,300 students and advisors from over 79 schools across the state. The event took place at the Bismarck Hotel and Convention Center.

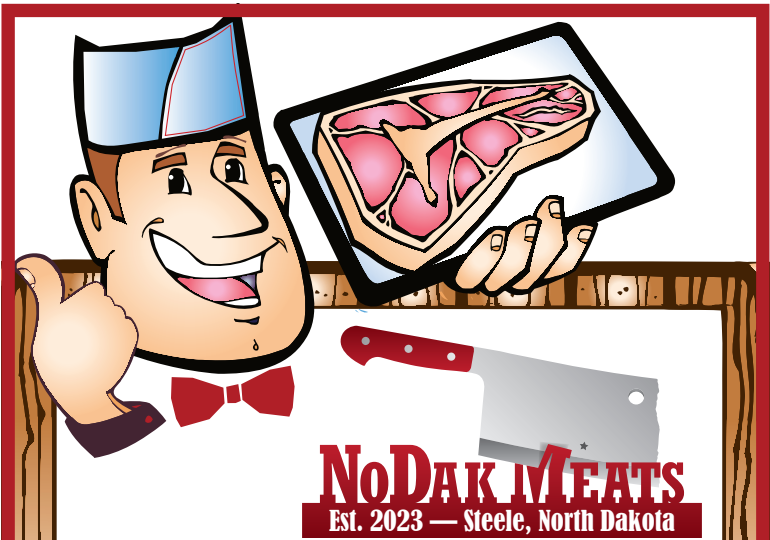

The conference is organized by the State Student Council officers, facilitators, and staff with support from the middle level student council officers and the Honor Society state officers, the conference offered a robust program focused on leadership, service, and community.

Highlights of the conference included keynote speeches, breakout sessions, advisor training, and service activities. Students participated in evening social events and officer election campaigns. Keynote speakers for the event were Peter Katz, Senator John Hoeven, Erin Oban, Travis Jordan, and Levi Bachmeier, the North Dakota Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Breakout sessions covered a variety of engaging topics, including Officer Presentations, Tie Blanket Service Project, the North Dakota Leadership Seminar, the North Dakota Distinguished Student Award and Vision Zero. Additionally, many of our keynote speakers also presented breakout sessions.

This year's conference had an emphasis on Alzheimer's awareness. Students raised money to support the North Dakota Student Council Scholarship, which launched the spring of 2025.
